

Midi de la Méditerranée – Middag

The EU Global Strategy on Foreign and Security Policy and the Mediterranean

WEDNESDAY 9 NOVEMBER 12.30 – 14.00

Infopoint Schuman (Rue d'Archimède 1)

The adoption, in June 2016, of the EU Global Strategy (EUGS) on Foreign and Security Policy is of major importance for the Mediterranean area. One of the five priorities identified for the future EU's external actions being: "investing in the resilience of states and societies to our East and South". The EUGS new strategic vision must now be translated into concrete policy initiatives and actions.

The conference will first put the EUGS into context in order to understand its importance and potential implications for the Mediterranean. It will then concentrate on the more concrete elements devoted to the European Neighbourhood Policy (ENP) at large and on the proposals made in the EU Global Strategy on "A Peaceful and Prosperous Mediterranean, Middle East and Africa".

The debate will end by a Q&A session.

Guest speaker: Erwan Lannon

Erwan Lannon is professor at the law school of the Ghent University. He also teaches at the College of Europe on the Bruges and Warsaw campuses. He specializes in the area of external relations of the European Union and international and strategic relations as well as in that of EU institutional and constitutional law. He is active in various networks, expert groups and worked as a consultant and international expert to several EU institutions and international organizations. He also worked as director of studies at the Warsaw campus of the College of Europe and as head of the office of the European Union Institute for Security Studies at the General Secretariat of the Council the EU.

This event is organised by:

European Movement in Belgium